Synodal Pathway report and letter from Archbishop Dermot Farrell

Throughout the Diocese almost 13,000 people engaged in 'spiritual conversations' in their parishes about their joys, their sorrows and their hopes for what the Church can be today and in the future. The Synod invitation, to listen deeply to our people, and to walk together in prayer accompanied by the Holy Spirit, was received enthusiastically by most people. It has become clear that respondents valued the opportunity to share and participate in collective discernment. Pope Francis has stressed that the synodal process is not rooted in specific outcomes, but seeks a recasting of the culture of the Church which will bring about reform and renewal of its internal life so that we can more effectively proclaim the Gospel to our communities. I encourage you to read the Synthesis and to take steps to make it known and available to the people entrusted to your pastoral care. As we approach the Solemnity of Pentecost, we celebrate that the Advocate, God's own Spirit is at work in and amongst us.

Yours sincerely, +Dermot Farrell Archbishop of Dublin

Prayer for recently deceased

Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them. May their souls and the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen

On 8th June 2022, Pope Francis at Audience in St. Peters Square said: The tenderness of the elderly shows us the tenderness of God. Pope Francis stressed this during his Wednesday General Audience in St. Peter's Square, as he continued his series of catecheses "on the meaning and value of old age in the light of God's Word." He reflected this week on the New Testament figure of Nicodemus. The Pope said he wished to emphasize "the tenderness of the elderly" and grandparents, highlighting how God is equally tender with us.

"Watch how a grandfather or a grandmother look at their grandchildren, how they embrace their grandchildren – that tenderness, free of any human distress, that has conquered the trials of life and is able to give love freely, the loving nearness of one person to others."

This tenderness, he said, opens the door toward understanding God's tenderness. "This is what God is like, He knows how to embrace. And old age helps us understand this aspect of God who is tenderness."

Born anew, not living forever The Pope considered the words spoken by Jesus to Nicodemus: "No one can see the kingdom of God without being born anew" (Jn 3:3) by water and the Holy Spirit.

This spiritual rebirth, the Pope suggested, does not negate or detract from the value of our earthly existence, but "points it towards its ultimate fulfilment in the eternal life and joy of heaven."

Our age, with its frantic pursuit of the myth of eternal youth, the Holy Father underscored, needs to relearn this truth and to see every age of life as preparation for the eternal happiness for which we were created.

Jesus had told Nicodemus:

"God so loved the world that He gave His only Son, so that everyone who believes in Him may not perish, but may have eternal life."
